

Preparing in Unison

Capitalizing On Our Partnerships in Support of a Disaster Resilient Utah

University Marriot Hotel
Research Park, University of Utah

January 18, 2012 8:00am – 5:00pm

Your UEMA is pleased to partner with FEMA to provide one of only five opportunities nationwide for a presentation and discussion regarding the new National Disaster Recovery Framework (NDRF).

As a result of the release of the National Disaster Recovery Framework (NDRF), there will be various, multi-city Stakeholder Forums held throughout the country starting in December 2011 during which stakeholder participants will learn more about the key concepts of the NDRF, the implementation of the NDRF in the state and local communities and its engagement with the Whole Community, and how these concepts can be used to drive recovery efforts after a disaster.

This meeting is a next step in providing participants with an understanding of how they can apply NDRF principals and concepts. Additionally, participant comments will be used to further develop and refine NDRF guidance documents, tools, and implementation

Additional instructions for participation will be out shortly with complete instructions on how to RSVP. Please consider now, which of the following topical groups you will wish to participate in during the meeting:

- Community Planning and Capacity Building
- Economics
- Health and Social Services
- Housing
- Infrastructure Systems
- Natural and Cultural Resources

Evening Reception

An evening reception featuring light hors d'oeuvres will provide a collegial atmosphere for recognizing Utah's Certified Emergency Managers, networking and further brainstorming. All registered attendees to UEMA 2012 are invited to attend as part of your registration.

Preparing in Unison

Capitalizing On Our Partnerships in Support of a Disaster Resilient Utah

University Marriot Hotel
Research Park, University of Utah

January 19, 2012 7:30am – 4:00pm

UEMA Annual Conference and Business Meeting

7:30am

Registration Opens

8:30am Opening and Welcome

Phillip Chafee, Utah Emergency Management Association
Keith Squires, Utah Public Safety/Emergency Management
Paul Patrick, Utah Department of Health

9:00am – 9:45am

Followership: The Capacity and Willingness to Follow a Leader. Garry Briese, Briese and Associates, LLC

Are you leading in a manner that is building follower capacity and willingness?

Networking Break with Vendors

10:00am – 10:45am

FEMA's Credentialing Strategy

SRA International

SRA International is working with the FEMA NIC Credentialing Task Group to develop an ASTM Credentialing Standard Guide. This Guide is intended to assist non-Federal entities (local, state, tribal, NGOs and private sector) with implementing credentialing activities in order to improve interoperability among organizations that require access to an incident site or event. The project is still very much in the development phase of the Standard Guide and feedback from external partners is actively being sought. This is an early opportunity for Utah voices to be heard. The guidance is available on the UEMA website for review.

Networking Break with Vendors

11:00am – 11:45am

Kay Goss (Placeholder for Presentation Title and Explanation)

Ms. Goss has 3 decades of experience working as a federal and state administrator, as well as a senior advisor in areas of emergency management, including emergency preparedness, mitigation, response and recovery...

Networking Break with Vendors/Luncheon Setup

Noon Annual Emergency Management Awards and Recognition Luncheon

Phil Chaffee, UEMA President, Master of Ceremonies

1:00pm Venue Evacuation Planning

Coordinating a venue evacuation is a complex task, often requiring the participation of many stakeholders. Through a UASI grant, the Salt Lake Region assembled stakeholders during 2010/2011 and developed checklists for evacuation management. This hands-on workshop will provide UEMA participants opportunity to review these checklists and offer feedback. Registrants will receive the draft checklists in advance; afterwards, participants will be able to take these checklists back to their own communities and make them their own.

Last Networking Break with Vendors

3:00pm Annual Business Meeting

4:00pm Adjourn

New Officer Orientation